

EXL recognized with Leader placement and Star Performer achievements for third straight year in Everest Group PEAK Matrix™ for Analytics BPS

August 16, 2018

NEW YORK, Aug. 16, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EXL (NASDAQ: EXLS), a leading Operations Management and Analytics company, today announced it has achieved placement as a Leader and Star Performer for its third consecutive year in the "Everest Group PEAK Matrix™ Assessment 2018 for Analytics BPS."

For this analysis, Everest Group classified 20 analytics BPS service providers into Leaders, Major Contenders and Aspirants. Star Performer designations are based on the greatest positive relative year-on-year movement on the PEAK Matrix. The PEAK Matrix framework focuses on the market impact and overall capabilities of service providers. It also provides insights into key strengths and development areas for each service provider.

"EXL continues to truly be a leader among the analytics BPS service providers," said Rajesh Ranjan, Partner, Everest Group. "Its extensive analytics tools, smart acquisitions, investments in automation, and powerful analytics solutions all contribute to its position as a market-leading service provider."

The report cited several of EXL's strengths, including:

- Acquisitions that expand the scope of analytics capabilities and reach into new markets
- Capability to implement enhanced solutions through an extensive suite of advanced analytics tools and cutting-edge technologies such as automation
- Consulting-led engagements that align with buyer demand
- Investments in innovation labs and partnering with startups
- Expanded presence for clients seeking onshore support for complex analytics

"We are thrilled to be named one of three service providers to receive the Star Performer designation this year, and the only one to receive it for three consecutive years," said Ankor Rai, EXL Senior Vice President and Co-Head of Analytics. "Our ability to combine domain and data gives us the context needed to help our clients transform."

Said Vivek Jetley, EXL Senior Vice President and Co-Head of EXL Analytics, "We are proud to be recognized by Everest Group as a premier BPS service provider. Our dedication to understanding our clients' domains and our ability to orchestrate expert teams, structured and unstructured data, and advanced technologies forms the Digital Intelligence to deliver outcomes for our clients."
